INSTRUCTIONS: JOINT DIVORCE WITH DEPENDENT CHILDREN

BEFORE YOU BEGIN

Disclaimer:

These are meant to be simple, straightforward instructions for completing a divorce on your own. There may be other ways of completing the divorce. If you want to find out if there is a different way than what is written here, or if you want any more information than what has been given, talk to a lawyer.

In these instructions, we often tell you to ask questions or get forms from the Resolution Support Centre. If there is no Resolution Support Centre in your court, ask the King's Bench Clerks for the information or forms.

Were you married?

If you were living "common law", then you do not need to do anything through the courts to end your relationship. It is only if you went through an official wedding ceremony that you need to get a divorce. This may have been in Canada or outside of Canada.

Do you have the correct marriage certificate?

If you were married in Canada, you need the marriage certificate that was issued by the Province after your marriage. If you have a hand-written certificate that was given to you at the time of your wedding, that is likely not the right one. If you were married in Alberta, you can order a marriage certificate from any registry office. If you were married in another province, search "marriage certificate" on the government home page for that province.

Tip:

Most people do not receive a marriage certificate from the government unless they go through the process of ordering one. It is not sent automatically after the marriage ceremony.

If you were married outside Canada, an official marriage certificate is helpful, but not required.

Have you and/or your spouse lived in Alberta for at least a year?

If not, you can't file for divorce in Alberta. You will be able to file once you (or your spouse) have lived in Alberta for a year.

Do you have grounds for divorce?

The grounds for a joint divorce are living separate and apart for one year.

Tip:

You can start the divorce before the year of separation is up, but you can't ask for the Divorce Judgment until after the year is up.

Do you have an agreement on the issues of custody, access (parenting), child support and spousal support?

A written agreement is best, but a verbal agreement will often be fine.

If you do not have an agreement, you may want to speak to your spouse about mediation, or you may want to talk to a lawyer.

Have you taken the Parenting After Separation Seminar?

If you have not yet taken the seminar, you should complete the online course as soon as possible. See the Family Practice Note 1 <https://albertacourts.ca/docs/default-source/Court-of-Queen's-Bench/practice-note-1-july-20-2015.pdf?sfvrsn=2> for more information.

You can find the course at <https://www.alberta.ca/pas.aspx>

Once you complete the online course, you will be given a Certificate to print. Each of you must file this certificate with the court to complete the divorce.

Tip:

Use the Divorce Checksheet at the end of these instructions for a handy summary of the forms and photocopies you will need.

COMPLETING THE JOINT STATEMENT OF CLAIM

Court File number

Leave this blank for now. When you file the Statement of Claim, the clerk will give you a number.

Judicial Centre

This is the Court of King's Bench location where you will be filing your documents.

Spouse 1 and Spouse 2

Decide now which of you will be called "Spouse 1" and which will be "Spouse 2". You will keep this label in all of the forms.

Look at your marriage certificate. Use the names exactly as they are on the marriage certificate except that if the wife has assumed the husband's last name, you can use her married last name.

For example, the marriage certificate lists you as John Edward Kerry and Jane Amanda Fraser. Jane goes by Jane Kerry. You will list yourselves as John Edward Kerry and Jane Amanda Kerry.

Tip:

Whenever there is a space to write in any names on any of the forms, write in the full name.

Address for Service and Contact Information

Write in both parties' names, complete addresses, including postal code and daytime phone numbers.

#1: The Parties

Make sure the date and place of the marriage are the same as on your marriage certificate.

1(3) and 1(4)

- Address means the complete address, including postal code.
- Surname at birth means the last name at the time of birth.
- Surname at the time of marriage means the last name just before your marriage took place.
- Gender at the time of marriage would be one of "male", "female", or "another gender".
- Marital status of the parties at the time of the marriage would be one of "single", "divorced" or "widowed".

#2: Residence

One of you MUST have lived in Alberta for one full year before you file the Statement of Claim. If you have not, you must wait. Choose either Spouse 1 or Spouse 2 here.

#3 Grounds

Do not write anything in here.

#4 Reconciliation

Do not write anything in here. If you believe there IS a possibility of reconciliation, then you should not file for divorce.

#5 Bars to Divorce

Do not write anything in here.

Tip:

"Collusion" means agreeing with your spouse to make up facts so that you can get your divorce, or get divorced sooner.

#6 Children

6(1) Fill in the full names and dates of birth of each of your dependent children. If there are more than two, you will need to add lines to the form.

6(2) Fill in the terms of the agreement that you and your spouse have about the allocation of parenting time and decision-making responsibilities.

6(3) The Divorce Act requires parties to notify the other party in writing if they are planning on changing their place of residence or relocating to another location. This applies whether you are planning on moving with the children or without the children. Describe how you and your spouse have agreed to provide notice to each other (e.g. by email, mail, in person, or some other method).

Example:

6(2) The parties propose parenting arrangements for each child as follows:

Spouse 1 will make major decisions about the children's health, education, culture, language, religion, spirituality, and significant extra-curricular activities, after consulting with Spouse 2.

The parties shall share parenting time equally, and the children shall spend alternating weeks with Spouse 1 and Spouse 2. Transitions shall occur every Friday at 4:30pm, and the parent that is with the children for the upcoming week shall pick up the children at that time.

6(3) If written notice of a change of residence or relocation is required to be given under section 16.8 or 16.9 of the Divorce Act (Canada), the Plaintiff proposes that notice be given as follows:

(a) The Plaintiff will provide written notice to the Defendant by: (specify how the written notice will be delivered to the Defendant, e.g. by mail, in person, by email, etc.)

By email

(b) The Defendant will provide written notice to the Plaintiff by: (specify how the written notice will be delivered to the Plaintiff, e.g. by mail, in person, by email, etc.)

By email

6(4) Fill in the terms of the agreement that you and your spouse have about child support. You may either put in a dollar amount, or say that the paying spouse will pay "child support as set out in the Federal Child Support Guidelines."

Tips:

The judge must be satisfied that the amount of child support is reasonable before they can grant your divorce. In most cases, this means that the amount of child support must be the amount calculated by the Federal Child Support Guidelines. There are very limited cases where the judge can order child support in an amount that does not follow the federal child support guidelines.

Before you fill in 6(4), you should understand how child support is calculated under the Federal Child Support Guidelines.

#7 Agreements

If you have an agreement regarding the parenting schedule, decision making responsibility regarding the children, child support, and/or spousal support, provide the type of agreement (e.g. Separation Agreement) and the date it was signed. If there is no agreement, say "none".

#8 Court Proceedings

8(1) If you have been to court to deal with parenting schedule, decision making responsibility regarding the children, child support, and/or spousal support, state the type of order that was made, the name of the Court that made the Order, and the date the order was made (e.g. Spousal Support Order made by the Provincial Court of Alberta on March 15, 2021). If you have not been to court regarding these issues, say "none".

8(2) If either party is involved in any court proceedings for a restraining order or protection order (e.g. EPOs), court proceedings related to child protection, or proceedings, undertakings or recognizances relating to a criminal matter, list the details here (ie: Emergency Protection Order granted by the Provincial Court of Alberta on March 5, 2021 between John Edward Kerry and Jane Amanda Fraser). If these proceedings are not applicable to your situation, say "none".

#9 Spousal Support

Check off the first box if no spousal support is to be paid. If spousal support is to be paid, check the second box and fill in which party is paying support, the amount of support, and whether it is monthly or a lump sum.

#10 Remedy Sought

This is a summary of what you are asking for. In most cases, you should check off at least:

- a joint divorce judgment
- parenting arrangement as proposed above
- child support as proposed above

Statement of Spouse 1

Fill in Spouse 1's name. This statement outlines Spouse 1's duties under sections 7.1 to 7.5 of the Divorce Act. Spouse 1 must certify that they will comply with these duties prior to filing the Statement of Claim for Divorce.

Statement of Lawyer for Spouse 1

You do not have to fill this in if you are representing yourselves.

Statement of Spouse 2

Fill in Spouse 2's name. This statement outlines Spouse 2's duties under sections 7.1 to 7.5 of the Divorce Act. Spouse 2 must certify that they will comply with these duties prior to filing the Statement of Claim for Divorce.

Statement of Lawyer for Spouse 2

You do not have to fill this in if you are representing yourselves.

FILING THE JOINT STATEMENT OF CLAIM

Print out the form.

Make 2 copies (original + 2 copies)

Tip:

Make sure all of your pages have print only on one side (no double sided printing or copying!)

One or both of you can come to court house to file the Joint Statement of Claim. Bring all of your copies, plus $260 (cash, Interac, Visa or Mastercard) and your marriage certificate to the Court of King's Bench. In larger centres, there will be a specific registry counter for filing divorce documents.

The clerk will keep your original Joint Statement of Claim, and will show you how to stamp and write the file number on your copies. Each of you will get one filed copy.

Tip:

It is possible, so long as you have been separated for more than one year, to complete all of the forms and file them with the Court at the same time. If you want to do this, complete the forms up to the end of page 26 before coming to the court house for filing.

COMPLETING THE JOINT REQUEST FOR DIVORCE

Court File Number
Judicial Centre
Spouse 1
Spouse 2

These are all the same as
in the Statement of Claim

Address for Service and Contact Information

Write in your names, complete addresses, including postal code and daytime phone numbers.

Print out the form and sign it.

Make two copies.

THE CHILD SUPPORT CALCULATION

Resolution Services staff can do a child support calculation for you based on the income information in the Affidavit of Applicant. They will attach the calculation to a Review Memo.

Tips:

Proof of income is required in most cases. IF you think you have an unusual case where the financial information is not required, talk to the Resolution Support Centre staff. The fact that you have an agreement on child support (or that there is to be no child support) is NOT an unusual case.

Use the same incomes and special expense amounts in your Affidavit of Applicant and your Divorce Judgment.

COMPLETING THE AFFIDAVIT OF APPLICANTS FOR DIVORCE (JOINT)

Tips:

This form is quite complex, and you may need to add information that does not fit in the spaces provided. If that happens, you should use the Word version of Form FL-24, on the King's Bench section of the albertacourts.ca website.

Fill out all of the parts of this form, unless the instructions tell you otherwise.

Court File Number
Judicial Centre
Spouse 1
Spouse 2

These are all the same as
in the Statement of Claim

Address for Service and Contact Information

Write in your names, complete addresses, including postal code and daytime phone numbers.

Affidavit of

Fill in both names.

Sworn on

Fill this in after you swear the Affidavit of Applicant.

Introductory paragraph of Affidavit:

Fill in your names and cities/towns of residence.

#1: Parties

Fill in the complete addresses of both parties

#2: Joint Statement of Claim for Divorce

Go back and read over your Joint Statement of Claim. If there are no mistakes, check off the first box.

If there are any mistakes in it, check off the second box and check the appropriate box(es) to specify the changes that are required.

#3: Marriage

Enter in the date and place of your marriage.

There are two checkboxes. If you were married in Canada, use the first checkbox. If you were married outside Canada, use the second checkbox.

First Checkbox (marriage in Canada)

- The marriage certificate will be Exhibit "A".
- Beside the words "issued by", fill in the Province or Territory where you were married.
- If there are errors in your marriage certificate, please specify. Otherwise check "none".

Tips:

- If you were married in Canada, you must have a marriage certificate to complete this step.
- You must attach the original marriage certificate (as you received it from the provincial government office), not a photocopy.

Second Checkbox (marriage outside Canada)

- Fill in the name and title of the person who conducted your marriage ceremony.
- Fill in the names of the people who witnessed your marriage ceremony.
- You may make changes to this statement to reflect the details of your marriage ceremony. You will probably need to use the Word version of the FL-24 form to do this, and may want to speak to a lawyer about this.
- If you have a marriage certificate, or some other document proving your marriage, you may attach it as Exhibit "A". You will probably need to use the Word version of the FL-24 form to do this.

Tips:

- If you cannot remember the name of the person who conducted your marriage ceremony, say “unknown”, but it is helpful to describe the person (e.g. “a government official who we believed to have the authority to conduct marriages”).
- If your marriage certificate is not in English or French, you will have to have it translated by a person who will swear before a Commissioner for Oaths that they have properly translated it into English. Attach the translation of the marriage certificate as Exhibit “B”.

#4: Residence

Choose either Spouse 1 or Spouse 2 – to show which of you had lived in Alberta for at least one year before the Statement of Claim was filed. This must match #2 of the Statement of Claim.

#5: Grounds

Fill in the date that you separated (must be more than one year ago!).

#6: Bars to Divorce

Do not write anything here.

Tips:

#6 refers to one of the “Bars” to divorce. It talks about making an agreement to deceive the court. An example of this would be if you and your spouse had only recently separated, but agreed to lie to the court and say that you had been separated for a year.

If #6 is not true, the judge will not grant the divorce, and you should talk to a lawyer before going any further.

#7: Reconciliation

Do not make any changes.

#8: Corollary Relief

Check the first box if your Divorce Judgment and Corollary Relief Order will include parenting arrangements, child support, or spousal support.

If the issues of parenting arrangements, child support, and spousal support have been severed from the divorce by an order, check the second box and enter the details of the order.

#9: Protection Orders, Child Protection Orders or Criminal Proceedings

9(a) List the details of any current criminal charges against you or your spouse, and the details of any conditions either of you are required to follow in relation to a criminal proceeding.

9(b) List the details of any current involvement of you, your spouse, or your children in the child protection system.

9(c) List the details of any protection orders (eg: EPOs) or restraining orders involving you or your spouse.

Tip:

If you have questions about how criminal proceedings, child protection proceedings, or protection orders may affect your divorce, you should talk to a lawyer before going any further.

#10 – 14: Children, Parenting and Financial Arrangements for the Children

If there are dependent children, 10 – 14 MUST be completed.

#10: Children

Check the second box and fill in the names and dates of birth of each child. Add or remove rows as necessary. Fill in the name and city/town of residence of the person that each child resides with.

#11: Court Orders Relating to the Children of the Marriage

If there are no court orders relating to the children (including orders under the Family Law Act or relating to a child protection matter), check the first box.

If there are court orders relating to the children, check the second box and attach all of the orders as an Exhibit to the Affidavit.

#12: Agreements Relating to the Children of the Marriage

If there are no written agreements relating to the children (including orders under the Family Law Act or relating to a child protection matter), check the first box.

If there is a written agreement between the parties relating to the children, check the second box.

The agreement must be attached as an Exhibit to the Affidavit. You can choose to attach only the relevant portions of the agreement, rather than the full agreement. If you are only attaching relevant portions of the agreement, you must include the first page, the signature pages, the certificates of independent legal advice and all pages relating to the children of the marriage.

#13: Parenting Arrangements

13(b) Explain how the parenting arrangements are in the best interests of the children. Refer to the information on the next page regarding the best interests of the child.

13(c) Check the appropriate box regarding notification method for any future changes of residence or relocations.

Best Interest of the Child

Section 16 of the Divorce Act says that the court shall take into consideration only the best interests of the child of the marriage in making a parenting order.

Primary consideration is given to the child's physical, emotional and psychological safety, security and well-being.

The following factors are to be considered:

- (a) the child's needs, given the child's age and stage of development, such as the child's need for stability;
- (b) the nature and strength of the child's relationship with each spouse, each of the child's siblings and grandparents and any other person who plays an important role in the child's life;
- (c) each spouse's willingness to support the development and maintenance of the child's relationship with the other spouse;
- (d) the history of care of the child;
- (e) the child's views and preferences, giving due weight to the child's age and maturity, unless they cannot be ascertained;
- (f) the child's cultural, linguistic, religious and spiritual upbringing and heritage, including Indigenous upbringing and heritage;
- (g) any plans for the child's care;
- (h) the ability and willingness of each person in respect of whom the order would apply to care for and meet the needs of the child;
- (i) the ability and willingness of each person in respect of whom the order would apply to communicate and cooperate, in particular with one another, on matters affecting the child;
- (j) any family violence and its impact on, among other things,
 - i. the ability and willingness of any person who engaged in the family violence to care for and meet the needs of the child, and
 - ii. the appropriateness of making an order that would require persons in respect of whom the order would apply to cooperate on issues affecting the child; and
- (k) any civil or criminal proceeding, order, condition, or measure that is relevant to the safety, security and well-being of the child.

Tip:

If you have questions about the factors the Court considers when determining what is in the best interests of your children, especially in situations of family violence, you should talk to a lawyer.

#14: Child Support Arrangements

14(a) Fill in Spouse 1's annual income.

If you are using a previous tax return to estimate the income, check the first box and write in the year of the tax return.

If you are using paystubs to calculate the annual income, check the second box.

If you are calculating the income another way, check the third box and provide an explanation.

14(b) Fill in Spouse 2's annual income.

If you are using a previous tax return to estimate the income, check the first box and write in the year of the tax return.

If you are using paystubs to calculate the annual income, check the second box.

If you are calculating the income another way, check the third box and provide an explanation.

Tip:

Line 150 / Line 15000 is usually used as a person's annual income for child support if that person's only source of income is through their employment. If your or your spouse's income is more complicated (e.g. your spouse earns money through a corporation), then you may want to speak to a lawyer or an accountant about how to calculate the income.

14(c)

If there is no claim for special or extraordinary expenses, check the first box.

If there is a claim for special or extraordinary expense, check the second box, and check the box for each type of expense being claimed. Make sure that you fill out the total annual expense for each type of expense that is checked off. The expenses listed here must match your Child Support Guideline calculation.

17(c)(ii) If there are health related, education or extracurricular activities, you must provide a description of the expenses.

14(d)

If child support is based on a standard Child Support Guideline calculation, check the first box.

If child support is different than the Child Support Guidelines amount, check the second box. If this is the case, then you must complete 14(g).

14(e) If you are seeking an order that dental and medical insurance be maintained for the children, fill out this part. If not, leave this part blank.

14(f) Attach the child support calculation sheet as an Exhibit to the Affidavit. Fill in the exhibit letter here. If you were given a review memo by Resolution Services staff, you may include that as part of the Exhibit.

14(g) Check this box only if you are using a child support amount that is different from the Child Support Guideline calculation. You MUST provide an explanation in if you are not following the Guideline calculation.

The PDF version of the document may add several paragraphs when you check the 14(g) box, and these paragraphs will provide space for you to explain why you are not using the Child Support Guidelines (if you are using the Word document, you may remove everything between paragraphs 14(g) and 15).

Tip:

The following are possible reasons why you may not be following the Child Support Guideline calculation:

- Children are over the age of majority - fill in 17(g)(i)
- Shared parenting - fill in 17(g)(ii)
- Payor's income is over $150,000 - fill in 17(g)(iii)
- Undue hardship - fill in 17(g)(iv)
- Spouse standing in place of a parent - fill in 17(g)(v)
- Other reason - fill in 17(g)(vi)

Further information can be provided in 17(g)(vii)

#15: Spousal Support

If you and your spouse do not have a written agreement for support, and no spousal support is being included in your Divorce Judgment, check off the first box. Select the appropriate check box for your situation.

If you and your spouse have a written agreement, and you received independent legal advice on the agreement, check off the second box and indicate whether spousal support is waived or whether spousal support is payable. If spousal support is payable, specify how much support is payable, and whether it is lump sum or monthly support.

If the first two boxes do not apply to you, check the third box and explain. An example of this would be if you have agreed to a spousal support amount, but you do not have a written agreement for spousal support with independent legal advice.

#16: Relief Requested

Check off the items that you are wanting in the Divorce Judgment. In most cases, you should check off at least:

- An order for a parenting arrangement
- An order for child support

If you indicated in #2 that the Joint Statement of Claim requires changes, you must check of the "other" box and explain what you are asking for (e.g. "Leave to amend paragraph 1(1)(a) of the Joint Statement of Claim to show the marriage date as August 23, 1997").

Print off the form.

Put the Affidavit of Applicant together as follows:

- All pages of the Affidavit
- Your marriage certificate, taped onto a plain piece of paper
- The English translation of the marriage certificate (if applicable)
- Copies of orders (if applicable)
- Copies of agreements (if applicable)
- Child Support Calculation

The documents attached to your Affidavit of Applicant will be marked as Exhibits "A", "B", etc.

You must both sign the Affidavit in front of a Commissioner for Oaths. The Clerk at the Court of King's Bench Divorce Counter or the staff at Resolution Services can act as a Commissioner for Oaths for you.

Make two copies of the Affidavit of Applicant and all exhibits AFTER it is sworn.

#11: If you want to add extra terms to your Judgment, put them here. Number the paragraphs in order.

#12 – 13: Do not remove these paragraphs as they MUST be included in all support orders.

#14 – 15 Choose one of these paragraphs. For all orders containing child support, one of these paragraphs MUST be included and the other MUST be removed. For more information on the Child Support Recalculation program, go to <http://alberta.ca> and search "child support recalculation".

#16 – 18 These paragraphs MUST be included in all orders that involve parenting time or decision-making responsibility. Fill in all three paragraphs with the agreed-upon methods of notification set out in #6(3) of the Statement of Claim.

Signatures

Both parties must sign the Divorce Judgment and Corollary Relief Order in front of a witness, and the witness must sign an Affidavit of Execution before a Commissioner for Oaths. The staff at Resolution Services or the King's Bench clerks will be able to assist with this.

"THE SPOUSES ARE NOT FREE TO REMARRY"

Do not remove this paragraph.

Tips:

This is your Court Order that is going to govern your parenting and child support for the future. Be careful deciding how it should be worded. Get help from a lawyer if necessary.

Write out the terms of the Judgment as if it is the Judge telling you what is going to happen.

Use your full names to refer to each of you. Or, you can use Spouse 1 and Spouse 2.

Use complete sentences.

Do not word your Judgment like an agreement. For example, saying "IT IS ORDERED that the parties agree that they will share custody" is wrong. The court cannot order parties to agree.

If there were mistakes in the Statement of Claim, you must include clauses granting leave to amend the Statement of Claim. (e.g. "Leave is granted to amend paragraph 1(1)(a) of the Statement of Claim to show the marriage date as August 23, 1997")

Make 2 copies of the Divorce Judgment and Corollary Relief Order for your own records.

FILE THE REQUEST FOR DIVORCE AND SUPPORTING DOCUMENTS

Bring to the court house:

- Completed "Checklist for Filing of Desk Divorce Packages"
- Request for Divorce (+ 2 copies)
- Affidavit of Applicant (+ 2 copies – made after Affidavit is sworn) – including child support calculation and all other exhibits

- Divorce Judgment and Corollary Relief Order
- 9 x 12 inch envelope addressed to each you with sufficient postage (1 envelope for each of you) – Not required if you have provided your email addresses on the "Checklist for Filing of Desk Divorce Packages"

The clerks will return filed copies of all of the documents, except the Divorce Judgment to you.

Your divorce will then be reviewed. This may take a day or two in smaller centres, and up to several weeks in larger centres.

If you have made mistakes, your divorce will be rejected, and you will be told what to correct. You will have to correct the mistakes, then re-submit the corrected documents. Do not feel badly if your documents are rejected, as it happens frequently.

If the paperwork is all correct, a Justice will sign the Divorce Judgment.

You will each then receive the Divorce Judgment in the mail or by email.
